ASK $420 DAMAGES FOR WRECKAGE DONE BY A MOTOR TRUCK

Morrisville Residents Claim Vehicle Crashed Into Their Shrubbery and Garden

KILLED 20-YEAR TREE

Give Costs of Replacing The Plants and Cleaning Up The Debris

For damages alleged to have been done to their lawn, a rock garden, shrubbery and vines when a truck and trailer left the highway and crashed into a 20-year-old tree also on their property, Elmer C. McCue and Lillian B. McCue, of Morrisville, have filed an action in trespass in the Court of Common Pleas, at Doylestown, naming Thomas M. Smitham, of Chester, the defendant in a $420 suit.

According to the statement of claim the plaintiffs allege that they owned on June 29, of this year, a large Norway maple tree, 40 feet high and 20 years old, a rock garden, pivot hedges and a large climbing vine which were seriously damaged when a truck and trailer, operated by Clair McAdoo, left the highway and ran into their lawn destroying the shrubbery and injuring the tree.

The accident is alleged to have taken place on June 29.

The cost of replacing the shrubbery is alleged to be $300.

For new rocks, the plaintiffs allege they spent the sum of $25, and the terrace and lawn, including the grass on the lawn, was damaged to the extent of $50. The hedge was valued at $15.

The plaintiff valued the climbing vine, which, it is alleged, was entirely destroyed, at $5.

He further alleges that he hired Charles W. Burton, Jr., for a period of 30 hours to clean up the debris and replace some of the plants, grass, rocks and shrubs at a cost of $15.

McCue says he spent 20 hours aiding Charles W. Burton, Jr., at a rate of 50 cents per hour or a cost of $10 in restoring the shrubbery.

SOVIET CAN'T COUNT ON CHINA AS ALLY IN WAR

Chiang Kai-Shek is Waging War On Extermination Against Red Groups Now

FRONTIER IS SHIFTED

Would China aid Russia in a war with Japan? John Goette, distinguished Far Eastern correspondent answers the question in another of his series of articles on the ominous situation in the Orient which threatens to bring Japan and Russia into war.

By John Goette
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1934, by I. N. S.)

PEIPING, Oct. 25.—(INS)—China's northern frontier has been shifted southward officially by between six hundred and a thousand miles through the formal opening of customs stations at Koupeikou and neighboring passes in the Great Wall. Thus for the purposes of passports and import duties, the Great Wall definitely is accepted by the Chinese National Government as its northern boundary.

This is the second significant indication of Chinese acceptance of the loss of Manchuria within recent months. The first was the inauguration of through railway traffic between Peiping and Mukden with the operation of the trains of the Japanese-controlled Manchukuo State Railways right into China.

However, the Chinese still are dodging the issue of recognition of Manchukuo. It is carefully explained that the customs collecting points are merely those from Harbin and other points on the Manchurian Siberian frontier, which have been shifted southward.

Some fact is given in this contention by the fact that while foreign made goods are taxed as they enter China through these Great Wall passes, authentic native goods of Manchukuo are permitted to come in duty free as though they were Chinese goods entering any other port. It is a thin excuse though, and the Chinese collectors at Koupeikou conduct their examinations under the protection of the Imperial Japanese Army side by side with the customs men of Manchukuo making their levies on goods going into the new empire.

When posts were established at Koupeikou and other points an attempt was made to open a similar station at Malanyu. Japanese troops refused to give up their control because it is the site of the Tung Ling or Eastern Tombs of Emperor Pu Yi's ancestors.

The Japanese have refused repeated Chinese requests to relinquish this place, arguing that the Emperor might wish to make a visit to inform his forebears of his re-establishment of their imperial line in the native land of Manchuria. Likewise they point out that in the past, the Chinese have not protected the Manchu tombs. The graves of the Empress Dowager and Emperor Chen Lung were pillaged by Chinese soldiers in 1928.

There is no present indication of an early attempt of the Chinese to re-open the military struggle over Manchukuo. Nor is there any assurance Soviet Russia would have the active support of China in the event of war with Japan.

An anti-communist campaign is being waged throughout the territory now ruled by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. He has been in field with his modern nationalist army against the Communists in the Yangtze Valley for over two years. There appears little likelihood that the Reds will emerge the victors in the struggle and thus place the Chinese assistance at Moscow's disposal.

A stroke of good business by Chiang disposed of one of the most formidable communist army generals. He induced General Kung Ho-chung, who formerly commanded the Sixth Communist Army of 70,000 well-armed troops to surrender.

What Bucks County Farmers Are Thinking

(By Special Correspondent)

ARTICLE TWO

An interesting angle of the political trend among one class of farmers just now is produced by the changes in relief activities. There is a rather small class of small farmers in Bucks County whose business furnishes full-time work only in the summer season. In the winter time, they have never had much to do beyond tending their poultry flocks and the usual barn chores on a small farm.

Last winter, however, when the C. W. A. work started, and people permitted to register who were "unemployed," some of the summertime farmers registered as "unemployed" and received calls to report for work on projects throughout the County. Men on these projects received a weekly check of from $12 to $15 up until April 1 when the C. W. A. plan was changed to the L. W. D. system. This money was pure velvet to this class and was highly appreciated. In fact, it temporarily "converted" some men so that they avowed their intention to change their politics from Republican to Democrat.

But when the system was changed making it necessary to be actually on food relief lists in order to get an assignment to a work project—something that this class of farmers could not or would not do—these men turned sour on the Democratic management of affairs. I have talked with several in the last few days, and in every case they declared their intention to vote the straight Republican ticket. Thus the line-up of the C. W. A. army as it existed last winter is completely broken up.

Among farmers in general there is criticism of the effect relief and relief work has on hitherto good farm help. While this criticism may not be fully justified, there is no doubt but what the rate per hour allowed C. W. A. and L. W. D. workers, even though it is for a "short" week, sets a standard of wages which farmers can not pay for general farm work in these times of low prices for farm products. They say that no farmer can pay fifty cents per hour for ordinary farm work and continue in business.

An important branch of agriculture in Bucks County is poultry keeping. The production of eggs is one of the major sources of income on the farms of the County. Successful poultry keepers are of necessity intelligent men, and it was with much interest that I made inquiry among some of them as to the effect of the N. R. A. and the A. A. on their business.

George L. Hess, on the road between Easterville and Southampton, is one of the big poultrymen of the County. Mr. Hess keeps about 6000 laying hens, and raises about 500 turkeys. "Of course," he said, "I am in the business to make money, but it has been mighty hard to do recently. The effect of the restrictions and regulations on agricultural activities has had a bad effect on the eastern poultry keepers. It has raised the price of feed, but has done absolutely nothing to raise the price of eggs or poultry meat."

When the rise in price of these products in recent weeks was pointed out to him he said: "Yes, the prices have gone up, but it was in spite of government meddling. The poor hatchability of eggs last spring, the low rate of egg production now, off-set the increase in egg prices, and when we figure the rise of feed prices of from 50 to 80 per cent. in the last year, we are no better off."

Taylor Brothers, of Newtown, are among the leading poultry producers in the County. Raymond Taylor, a graduate of Pennsylvania State College, is a leader in many agricultural activities, and was one of the promoters of the egg auction conducted at Doylestown.

When asked if the N. R. A. had benefitted them any, he said: "Not one bit. In fact, it has injured us in every way. We are hatchers of baby chicks as well as egg producers. While there are some good points in the hatchery regulations, the restrictions and increased costs more than off-set the advantages. As to egg production, the increase in the cost of feed, amounting to 50 per cent. in some kinds up to 100 per cent., in others, eats up the profits we might now be making with the rise in prices. The public should not be fooled into thinking that egg producers are now making big profits. Not only the high price of feed prevents, but the production percentage is very low at present."

Mr. Taylor also pointed out that the higher prices of poultry meat—about five cents per pound—is but following the other meats, and all are caused by the price of feeds and the great drought in the middle— and southwest last summer.

Other, smaller poultrymen also said the same things. One man said he felt guilty a year ago because he had voted for Hoover instead of Roosevelt. Everything and everybody seemed to be on the Roosevelt side then. But since that time some of the colors of the rainbow have faded and many prophecies have failed to materialize. Today, he feels no shame in having voted as his conscience dictated.

FIRE CO. AUXILIARY HAS MASQUERADE PARTY

Dicks Hall, Edgely, Is The Gathering Place for Members and Families

OTHER BITS OF NEWS

EDGELY, Oct. 26.—In Dick's Hall, Wednesday, a Halloween party was held for members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the fire company and their families.

The hall was attractive with its decorations of cornstalks, black cats, and witches.

Costumes of all descriptions were worn and much merriment ensued. Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, best dressed; Miss Elizabeth Tschada, old fashioned girl; Mrs. Russell Flail, impersonation of a man; Mr. Bergman, impersonation of a woman, in the comic division.

Games appropriate to the season were enjoyed and prizes awarded to Mrs. Scott and Mr. Bergmann, bobbing for apples; Mrs. Schultz and Mrs. Flail, raisin game; Mrs. Stewart Locke, Mr. Bergmann, in "Going to Jerusalem." Refreshments were served.

On Monday evening the Girls' Friendly Society of St. Paul's Chapel, held a Halloween party in their meeting room. The girls played delightful games, bobbed for apples and popped corn. Refreshments were served after which the group had a short business meeting.

The girls have planned to meet to sew on Tuesday evening, October 30th.

LEGION CONVENTION ENDS

By W. K. Hutchinson
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Miami, Florida, Oct. 26.—The 16th annual convention of the American Legion passed into history today after laying down an important 12-point program featured by a plea for an immediate $2,200,000,000 cash settlement of the adjusted service (bonus) certificates for 2,500,000 World War veterans.

The Legion attacked a resolution declaring its political neutrality between the two major parties but sandwiched this in-between the demand for cash payment of the bonus in opposition to President Roosevelt's wishes and a declaration of support of the administration's social development program. Then it declared war on communists, seeking to ban their literature from the mails and their party label from all ballots.

In spite of this neutrality declaration, the Legion appeared headed toward a political war in Congress next winter. It instructed its legislative representative to seek cash settlement of the bonus certificates on their present face value, although Democratic Legionnaires fought the proposal as inimical to the Roosevelt administration. It injected itself into national politics too by branding the Roosevelt administration as being "definitely committed to the policy" of spending money "for the purpose of hastening recovery."

Straus Store Observes Fifteenth Anniversary

Harry Straus, prominent and well known Mill street merchant, today is celebrating his 15th anniversary in business. Mr. Straus in celebration of the event is conducting an anniversary sale.

Mr. Straus came to Bristol in 1917 and two years later ventured into the cut rate business. He opened a small shop on Pond street, just off of Mill street. The business expanded and Mr. Straus moved into larger quarters in the property now occupied by Sifflas restaurant, opposite the Grand Theatre. Due to business expansion Mr. Straus was forced to move the second time, going into the property on Mill street now occupied by Glazer's produce Market.

Then becoming extremely cramped for ample space in which to do business Mr. Straus decided to move into the store building which he now occupies on Mill street, next to the A. & P. store. Here the Straus store occupies a large floor area and is amply able to cater to the wants and desires of a large clientele.

cut leg, which was treated by Dr. Theodore R. Cohen.

Fire threatened the home of the Misses Anna and Rose Wright, of Penn Valley, Falls Township, yesterday when a shingle roof caught fire. Had it not been for the prompt response by firemen it is believed that the entire home would have gone up in flames.

The roof and upper part of the house were in flames when the firemen arrived, and water played on the blaze completely soaked the interior of the home. Firemen, however, succeeded in carrying out much of the furniture and household goods.

Water was pumped by the Capitol View Fire Company's booster pump from a nearby pond. Two apparatuses from the Morrisville department, and Tullytown, Edgely and Falls companies responded.

The damage was estimated at $1500.

He was given $2,500 to keep his family, and a $500 a month post at the dictator's headquarters at Nanchang.

Gen. Kung has changed his viewpoint now, of course. He told Universal Service:

"China is not a capitalist nation or a highly industrialized one, and it is absurd to believe that there exists a struggle between capital and labor."

General Kung estimates the Red army today numbers some 200,000, of which a large part are women. Most are too poorly equipped to take places in the battle line.

During the new drive, Generalissimo Chiang has forbidden the marriage of any of his officers or men on the Red front. This order came as the result of a confession made by a captured Communist woman spy. She testified that many comely girls are engaged in spying and spreading disaffection in government ranks. These women enter the lines as refugees, then later blossom forth as beauties and seek to marry soldiers who can be "pumped" for military information.

Granger Rough Cut

"Why—I don't believe I have used a pipe cleaner in three or four weeks

Granger leaves no gum in the bowl of my pipe—or moisture in the stem. It burns down to a clean dry ash."

In the manufacture of Granger Rough Cut Pipe Tobacco the Wellman Process is used.

The Wellman Process is different from any other process or method and we believe it gives more enjoyment to pipe smokers.

... it gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma

... it makes the tobacco act right in a pipe—burn slower and smoke cooler

... it makes the tobacco milder

... it leaves a clean dry ash—no soggy residue or beel in the pipe bowl

TROJANS' RECORD
TO BE THREATENED

The undefeated record of the Edgington Trojans will be seriously threatened Sunday, when they meet the strong Wissahickon Steamrollers. This team will undoubtedly be the strongest opponent yet met by the local club. It will test the mettle of the Trojans as no game has done this season.

However, the Trojan players are determined to take each game as it comes and give their utmost to keep that record clean. Thus far this season, five games have been played, with three victories, and two ties. This compares the best early season record ever established by a Trojan team in recent years. Each Sunday the crowd has been increasing.

During the past week, the management has been hard at work in preparing for this week-end tilt. Several important changes have been made in the offense of Trojan plays which are expected to measurably strengthen their offensive; also in an effort to strengthen their backfield combination several new players have been added to the squad.

Those who watched the Trojans in action last year will easily remember the line-smashing play of Harry Melior. This will be continued Sunday in an effort to rip open the Steamrollers' forward wall.

The following squad will be seen in action this Sunday on the Trojan field, Bristol Pike and Street Road. Ends, James, Lake; tackles, Conn, Irvin, Forester, Hopkins; guards, B. Davis, C. Davis, Barth, Bellerby, McCurry; center, English, Sorosen; backs, Kutzer, Dibbs, Crossley, Leighton, Melior, Hughes, Curry, Collins.

JAY-VEES TRIUMPH
OVER GLEN-NOR XI.

By Jack Orr

With the shadows of evening falling fast on the Glen-Nor field, Paul Nicol pulled a triumph from the fire. With less than a minute to play, Nicol made a marvelous running catch of a pass thrown by "Punk" Zefferi for the only score of the game, the Bristol Jay-Vees winning, 7-0.

The rest of the fray seemed to be a punting duel between "Punk" Zefferi for the Cardinal and Gray and "Jim" Smedley of the Glen-Nor Jay-Vees.

The play was continually in the home club's territory but the Bristol eleven failed to score until that last minute. The heavier Glen-Nor line seemed to hold within its 15-yard line.

Following a march from midfield in the last period with "Walt" Tomlinson and "Sammy" Ross bearing the brunt of the attack, the "Junior Bunnies" carried it across on the most spectacular play of the game.

The extra point was completed as Zefferi faked a kick and threw a short forward to Ross.

The visiting line gained five first downs to the home club's three.

Today the varsity travels to Penberton to play the Orange and Black in their annual contest.

Short Cuts to the Dinner Table

by Vera A. Schneider

Requests, Together With Table of Equivalents Given

A number of friends have requested the table of equivalents, so I'll include those in our column today, after which I shall turn my attention to other requests that have been accumulating in a neat little stack on my desk.

Table of Equivalents
1 Pt. equals 1 cupful
1 Qt. equals 4 cupfuls
3 Teaspoonfuls equals 1 Tablespoonful
60 Drops equals 1 teaspoonful
2 Tablespoonfuls of butter equals 1 ounce
1 square chocolate equals 1 ounce
4 tablespoonfuls flour equals 1 ounce

These are the equivalents that come up in every day cooking. There are others which we do not need so frequently. The information, of course, is nice to have, but I'll give it to you some other time. Right now I must take care of a fair visitor from California—A Mrs. Clark. Mrs. Clark is visiting her son and while here wishes to make for him Shrewsbury cakes. Here is the recipe, and I might add that these ingredients make about six dozen cakes—or rather cookies—and they have a very distinctive flavor.

Shrewsbury Cakes

2 cupfuls sugar
1 teaspoonful nutmeg
1 teaspoonful mace
4 cupfuls flour
4 teaspoonfuls rosewater
4 eggs
1/2 cupful melted butter—approximately.
Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Beat the eggs until light and add the rosewater. Combine with the first mixture and add as much of the melted butter as is necessary to make a stiff dough. Roll the dough in waxed paper, having the roll about two inches in diameter and chill overnight in refrigerator. Cut in thin slices and bake on buttered cookie sheets in a moderate oven for about 12 minutes.

You will be interested to know, Mrs. Clark, that the recipe for these cookies originated way back in the year 1790.

And now I have another request. This is for Mrs. Emma Shelly, and Mrs. Shelly has requested a batter for chicken. The recipe I am giving you will make sufficient batter for a medium sized chicken and calls for:

1 1/2 cupfuls flour
3 teaspoonfuls baking powder
1/2 teaspoonful salt
1 egg—well beaten
1/2 cupful milk
Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Mix the egg and milk together and combine with the dry ingredients. Dip each piece of chicken in the batter and fry in deep fat until brown. The chicken must, of course, have been cooked until tender before dipping in the batter, for it will take only a short time to cook the batter until it is a golden brown which would not be sufficient to thoroughly cook the chicken.

One more request this morning and this comes from Mrs. M. C. Woods, who wished to know how to cook liver. Liver, you know, is a delicious dish when cooked properly, but it certainly loses all its delicacy when it is not. I'll tell you how to broil liver, Mrs. Woods, and if you'll follow the simple directions, I'm sure you'll be pleased with the result.

Have the amount of liver required cut in thin slices, slash it, that is at the edges cut the liver about a half inch deep so that it will not curl, then brush it with melted butter and place it under the broiler. Broil it rather slowly so as to be sure it is thoroughly cooked. Turn it, of course, so that it is cooked on both sides. Serve garnished with bacon curls and a sprig of parsley, or you might mince the parsley and sprinkle it over the top.

SCOTTIE'S HARNESS MATCHES OUTFIT OF ITS PRINCESS OWNER

By Nadia De Beand

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
PARIS—(INS)—Vigorous sport through the day is, of course, the main occupation in St. Moritz, the town lying snugly in the valley between high mountains all around. The Palace Hotel is the center of social life, its terrace overlooking the two-mile lake, which in summer serves for boating and bathing, and in winter turns into an ideal skating rink. At present golf is one of the favored sports, and the Scotties being dragged over the links are a circus. The caddies are eight-year-old girls with pig-tails down their backs.

A few mornings ago there I noticed the Princess Pio of Savoy, who was Donna Sveva Colonna, the oldest family in Rome, with her resisting Scottie at the end of a red leash and collar, matching her red skirt. Her blouse was in brown velvet with a round cap of brown, edged with red and a red heret stem standing up jauntily.

ALL NATIONALITIES FLOCK TO POPULAR PLACE AT ST. MORITZ

By Nadia De Beand

(I. N. S. Fashion Correspondent)
PARIS—(INS)—Going to Hantsmann's is one of the occupations at St. Moritz and every nationality does so at a different hour.

Persons living at the Palace go there at noon for cocktails, the Swiss wood-paneled shop with a Ritz touch having a charm all its own.

Transients pick up a light lunch in this renowned pastryshop.

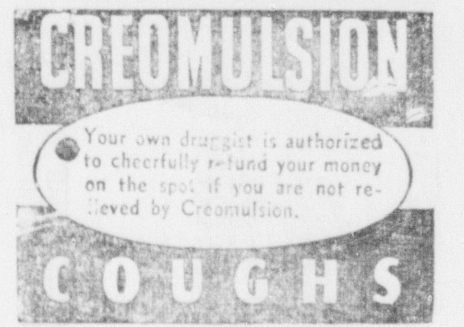

At 3 p. m. it is the German coffee hour, at 4 o'clock the staid English troop in for their tea, at 5 p. m. the youth of all nations rushes in armed with appetites for tea, chocolate, pastry in quantities, ending up with the cocktail hour of universal appeal.

Here I saw several well-known people. There was Mrs. Robert Lehman, daughter of the Danish minister, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, on her honeymoon with the nephew of Governor Lehman. She was in a simple grey flannel suit with a white blouse with a bateau neckline.

10-FAMILY MUSHROOM

CONTON, O.—(INS)—One mushroom appeared the appetites of 10 families. The unusual sporophore weighed seven and one-half pounds, was 40 inches in diameter, 21 inches long, 13 inches thick at one end and 12 inches at the other. It was found by C. O. Tressell.
